Wind driven water floods low-lying areas of Hancock

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Several residents of low-lying areas in Hancock County were surprised Monday night by flood waters driven in by a low pressure system.

In areas already saturated by some two inches of rainfall, water was driven by easterly winds at more than 40 miles per hour beginning about 5 p.m.

According to the National Weather Service the tides rose from three to five feet above normal before the wind changed direction.

The tides, reportedly peaked around 3 a.m. but many low-lying areas are still covered with water.

Many residents of Shoreline Park moved their cars Monday night to avoid the flood waters.

Heron Bay Estates residents reported water had flooded several homes and cars.

This area was also isolated until Wednesday because the high waters had made the road impassable.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said they had many calls on the rising waters but that no evacuations had been necessary.

"In many areas the streets were covered with a tremendous amount of water and several residents were concerned," he added.

The weather service reported that the strong low pressure system had developed in the western Gulf of Mexico and had spread rain across all of Mississippi.

In Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish about 25 residents were evacuated but were allowed to return home early Tuesday afternoon.

There were no reports of injuries along the coast but boats from marinas all along the coast were tossed about by the winds and high water.

A Louisiana Civil Defense official said the last time this sort of flooding had happened was in January 1963.

A low pressure system was also the cause in 1963 and hundreds of Hancock County residents were evacuated because of rising waters.

The outlook for Christmas Day is partly cloudy and cool as the low pressure system moves out of the mid-South and into western Tennessee.

However tides are expected to be high again this weekend when the position of the sun and moon may increase the tides' pull.

Coastal areas throughout the world are expecting tides to be about a foot higher around Dec. 28.

Two arrested, charged

By DENA BISNETTE

Two Bay St. Louis residents have been arrested on drug charges.

According to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Ray Murphy, Larry Blackwell, 29, and Rita Blackwell, 23, both of 701 Union St., Apt. 2, were arrested Tuesday.

Both are charged with conspiracy to possess a controlled substance, which Murphy said was marijuana.

He said the exact amount of marijuana involved has not been determined, but it is over one kilogram.

Larry Blackwell and Rita Blackwell were being held in the Hancock County Jail Tuesday afternoon on $30,000 bond each.

Murphy said the arrests are the result of a two-month undercover investigation involving Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics personnel and officials of the Bay St. Louis Post Office.

The investigation is continuing, the chief added.

School district still eyeing hospital building

By DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District is still looking at the possibility of using the Hancock General Hospital Building to relieve some school crowding problems.

Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner was one of three members of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors who stated last week that they prefer to sell the building rather than renovate it.

He called turning the building over to the school district an appropriate way to use the old hospital.

"If the school district officials think they can use it, we would certainly consider it," Ladner said.

NSTL's Visitors Center to close for Christmas

The Visitors Center at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County will be closed Thursday, Dec. 24.

Christmas Day is the only day of the year the center is closed.

The center will reopen Friday 8:30 a.m.

"It would still save the district money if we picked up the cost of repairing the air conditioning system, the plumbing and the roof," the superintendent said.

All three problems, particularly the roof, have been discussed at supervisors' meetings but no action has been taken on repairs.

Oge said possible ways leaving the hospital building could benefit the school district include using the structure for administrative offices presently located in the Bay Senior High School and Bay Junior High School buildings, releasing space at both schools for instructional use.

HOSPITAL--Page 3A

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men.

In Memoriam

In Memory of
JUSTIN DANIEL FRICKE CHRISTMAS WISH
Dear Lord, it's nearly Christmas but the spirit isn't strong.
I want to ask a question—please forgive me if I'm wrong.
Is there a Santa Claus in Heaven and a lovely Christmas tree?
Oh, Lord, please let them be there—it would mean so much to me.
You took our little angel home. Now he doesn't have the joys Of presents and a stocking like other girls and boys.
Dear Lord, he was so very good, hoping Santa'd come his way.
Please give him what we couldn't, Lord, on this lonely Christmas Day.
Our hearts are with you, Love Mother and Grandparents

Father Lambert Stack, ST, will officiate.

Happy Birthday, Darling
God's golden gates stood open three years ago today.
With farewells left unspoken you quickly skipped away.
Your cheerful smile and helpful ways.
We miss so much these lonely days.
Although we sometimes question the wisdom of His love,
But God calls His angels to be with Him alone.
No heartaches can compare with the death of a child.
But one day, Myrthee, we will be by your side.

LOOSE BOATS—High tides driven by winds accompanying a low pressure system Tuesday caused much havoc along the shoreline tossing boats and garbage cans around. The high water also deposited debris on Beach Boulevard in several places. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

ROAD CLOSED—Bay St. Louis' Felicity Street was closed at the intersection of Beach Boulevard Tuesday due to flooding from a nearby canal. A strong low pressure system which developed Monday night in the Gulf of Mexico caused excessive rainfall, and gusty winds raised the tides causing flooding in several low areas of Hancock County. Waveland zoning board to recommend variance

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Planning and Zoning Board has approved one recommendation for a yard variance but has taken no action on two other matters presented at Wednesday's meeting.

A five-foot side yard variance requested by a contractor building a Farmer's Home Administration-funded residence on Heclibey Street will be recommended to the board of aldermen for approval at its Jan. 8 meeting.

The other two matters included a discussion of changes in two projects already presented to the board.

In one project, the developer discussed but indicated no decision on a proposal that would reduce the number of buildings in a proposed multi-residence complex while still maintaining the same number of rental units.

The other matter concerned a pending property sale that will reduce the amount of property to be subdivided for single family residences in a proposed new subdivision.

The board ended the meeting with an official motion 'Wishing Everyone A Merry Christmas And A Happy New Year.'

The next zoning board meeting is scheduled for Jan. 26.

Santa wears blue and gray

Santa Claus comes in many shapes and sizes. Some Santas even wear the blue and gray trooper uniform of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

Trooper efforts, in conjunction with Governor Bill Allain's "Love One Another" campaign, will result in more than 100 Mississippi families benefiting from their generosity.

"This is the third consecutive year for this agency to participate in the governor's program and we have found it very rewarding to us and extremely beneficial to the people who have been served," James L.

Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety, said.

On the day before Christmas Eve, selected families across Mississippi received food for Christmas dinner, and toys and clothing as gifts for their children.

The donations of food, clothing and toys were made by the troopers themselves or collected by them to benefit families whose household heads are elderly, unemployed or suffer from a lengthy illness.

Families selected to receive the gifts were taken from lists provided by the Department of Public Welfare.

During the Holiday Season many folks are attending parties and some may be drinking a little too much to be driving.

The Holiday Seasons are when so many people lose their lives due to traffic accidents and some of the drivers are drinking.

I have had conversation on Friday with Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Ray Murphy, and Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn, and all three are urging residents having a little too much to drink to please call their respective departments for transportation home.

This is a service offered to the public by our law enforcement agencies in order to try and eliminate holiday fatalities.

Police officers would much rather drive someone home from a party than to have to investigate an accident caused by someone drunk.

It is hoped all citizens celebrating a little too much will remember to have someone sober to drive them home.

The sheriff's office telephone number is 467-5101; Bay police, 467-9221; and Waveland police, 467-3669.

We are hoping everyone will have a Safe and Happy Holiday Season.

Congratulations are in order for William Kornhaus of Pearlinton, the winner of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's 25 inch RCA Color TV Console Christmas promotion.

Some 39 local merchants participated in the chamber promotion.

The lucky winner registered at Hubbard's Pro Hardware in Waveland.

Mississippi House of Representatives

JACKSON—Mississippi House Speaker C.B. "Buddie" Newman said he is confident that Mississippi will be included next year in a proposed Republic of China procurement mission to the United States.

Newman said he discussed plans for the procurement mission with top ROC officials during a recent visit to Taiwan. "They were very favorable to our proposal that Mississippi be among the states on their agenda," he said.

Newman was joined by Jerry McDonald, executive director of the Mississippi Department of Economic Development. MDED Marketing Director Bill McGinnis in representing Mississippi at the 10th Joint Conference of the ROC-USA and USA-ROC Economic Councils.

Six ROC procurement missions have visited Mississippi and purchased more than $80 million in products, primarily soybeans, corn, and power circuit breakers.

Newman has many close contacts and friends in the Republic of China, including the revered former Premier Y. S. Sun whom he visited at his home during the latest trip. Their personal meeting was covered by ROC television. This was Newman's fourth visit to Taiwan since 1979.

Newman met with present Premier Yu Kuo-Hua in Taipei.

Newman, McDonald and McGinnis discussed plans for the procurement mission with K.H. Wu, deputy chairman of the China External Trade Development Council, and Vincent C. Siew, director general of the Board of Foreign Trade.

Newman extended a personal invitation to make a return visit to Mississippi to Speaker Kao of the Taiwan Assembly. Speaker and Mrs. Kao were guests of the Newmans at their home in Valley Park on a previous visit to the state.

McDonald said the Department of Economic Development is making arrangements for ROC businesses to visit the state next year to explore possible direct investments in Mississippi. In addition, he said the state will host an "Invest in Mississippi" seminar in Taipei.

More than 1,000 people attended the conference with representatives from 34 states.

The Department of Economic Development said two primary purposes of the visit were to establish contact with high technology companies in the Republic of China on behalf of Mississippi firms, and to expand relationships with ROC companies in view of proposed changes in policies making it more favorable for direct investment in the United States.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—O boy, only a few days before the Big One arrives. No, I'm not talking about Christmas. Or New Years.

I'm talking about the arrival of the Big 174, namely, the Mississippi Legislature, for its 1987 regular annual session. Now that's real fun.

A friend over in Arkansas was so concerned about me being lonely for the sights and sounds of a Legislature around that he sent me a clipping of a column from the Arkansas Gazette. It told of a forthcoming fight in the Arkansas Legislature to make English that state's official language, a la California.

The Gazette columnist projected how the dialogue would go in the floor debate over the bill, as follows:

"Mist' Spaker, I rise t'interduce a rezolution thadde make it agin the law to spake ary language by English.

"Yer reckonized, Senator Bum-baugh."

"I'd like to ast my feller colleagues if hit don't make good sense to speak nothin' but English in these hallered halls."

"If somebody wuz to come in and start jabberin' in say, Eye-talian, wy, there'd be more or less total confusion. Couldn't nobody unnerstan' him. Wouldn't nobody know what he was a-talkin' about. I have trouble unnerstandin' some of these fellers from Little Rock, rat now. And them yahoos from over in the Delta: is worse."

"I say the Bible was wrote in English, and we hadn't ort to go agin the will o' the Master."

"And lemme say just one thiag 'fore I set down: If'n this bill don't pass, hits a-gona open a Pandora's box."

Now, isn't that little colloquy downright nostalgic? Makes it hard to wait for January 6 when the Mississippi lawmakers set up shop once more.

The Arkansas story raises another question in my mind: Will there be a legislative move here also to make English the official language of Mississippi?

We already have a brutal session in prospect here to deal with such issues as raising taxes in an election year to fund state services at a minimum level, launching a long-overdue $1.5 billion four-lane highway program, providing prison facilities to keep several thousand criminals off the streets, along with some other hot potatoes. Now, all we need is an "English Spoken Here" battle to sidetrack the real issues.

But at this point, I wouldn't bet against it. The Mississippi Legislature is easily side-tracked.

Should a bill to make English the official language in Mississippi get on the floor of the Legislature, however, it will be necessary to clarify which English will be permitted: Southern, Black, or Legislative.

I can foresee some heavy fighting on the language front if the Mississippi Legislature gets into the official English struggle. Tickets to watch the floor debates over the issue could bring premium prices and our legislators could provide comic relief on the nightly network news.

I am reminded of my visit to the Tower of London last September when a Beefeater Guard with a bright red nose was our guide.

As he was steering the group of tourists through the scenes of long-ago royal terrorism, the Beefeater stopped for a moment to ask how many were from the United States.

A goodly number of the group held up their hands and gave out a little whoop.

Immediately, the very English gentleman in the uniform you see on the bottle of gin inquired:

"Are you here on holiday...or to learn the language?"

So, as they say in Jolly Old England:

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us

City's Christmas present to taxpayers is a 54 percent rate increase

This December we the taxpayers received our Christmas presents from the mayor and city council of Bay St. Louis. The package came by certified mail and the present was a 54 percent tax increase.

How did this happen? Well, in September the City Administration awakened from an 18-month nap and realized that a kindergarten program, annexed area improvements, wastewater treatment costs had to be funded. We now know that the burden of this funding will be strapped on the backs of the business person and property owner.

Did the mayor and council appoint a panel of local business people to address this issue? No, they instead ran ads in the paper to enlist local response. In this way they received the response they desired, and this was none. This is no way to increase taxes by such an unprecedented percentage.

Christmas was not bleak for everyone. The mayor and council did vote to grant GTEX, a new printing firm, a five or ten year tax exemption. I wonder how many of the old established taxpaying business people can expect to receive this in their Christmas stockings?

Regulation could prevent fireworks related injuries

As proponents of "safe and sane" fireworks, we should encourage responsible fireworks use and safe alternatives to personal fireworks use.

Each year 8,000 to 10,000 emergency room visits occur. The majority of those injured are less than 16 years of age and 70 percent are male.

Burns are most common - 67 percent. Eye injuries account for 21 percent of fireworks related injuries and lacerations 17 percent.

Ocular injuries include lid burns, corneal abrasions, hyphema, lacerations, vitreous hemorrhage and retinal scars. Over 70 percent of ocular injuries resulting in loss of vision were caused by bottle rockets. Texas has now banned bottle rockets. In many cases the injured person was not the one who shot the rocket.

Firecrackers, bottle rockets and sparklers contribute to most hospitalizations. Serious burns occur from sparklers often because the pre-teenage child's clothing is ignited. Sparklers can reach temperatures of more than 1,000 F.

Restrictive state fireworks laws seem to be effective. The rate of fireworks related injuries was more than seven times greater in states that allowed a wide variety of class C fireworks of which Mississippi is included.

To prevent injuries we should consider the following:

1. Increase public awareness that fireworks related injuries can be reduced by responsible supervision and handling of devices. A high risk is associated with the lack of parental supervision of children. The majority of injuries are attributable to misuse (60 percent) and only about 20 percent to malfunction.

2. Support legislative action to limit availability of fireworks that have a high risk for causing serious and debilitating injuries.

Fireworks regulation should be considered because of a) Medical injury with rocket type fireworks presenting a serious medical hazard, b) Noise pollution which is worse in metropolitan areas and c) fire hazards.

Recommendations for future might include:

1. Ban all rocket type fireworks statewide. Until the state acts, each county should ban this dangerous group of fireworks. All state laws exempt public firework displays by professional groups.

2. Each county and city should decide their own regulations since fire and noise hazards are worse around metropolitan areas. Banning all fireworks would probably not pass in our legislature due to Mississippi's large areas of rural population and the popularity of many fireworks.

3. The State's optalmologists, ER physicians, pediatricians and family practitioners plus the State Medical Society and State Fire Prevention Agency must take active roles to document fireworks related injuries and fires.

School district offices at HGH building a good idea

Dec. 20, 1986
Letters to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,
There was good news in the Thursday edition of the Echo.

I agree with Superintendent of Education for the Bay-Waveland school district, Dr. Oge.

The old hospital would make a beautiful school district office building.

The only alteration it would need are a few walls knocked out to open the roomy lobby.

There are excellent rooms of staff in a well-equipped kitchen, central air and heat, good lighting and plenty of parking space.

As for the leaky roof, it has leaked since the hospital was built, as I worked there and helped put out bed-pans and pots to catch the rain.

I hope the Bay-Waveland school board and everyone who votes will get behind Dr. Oge and help to get our board of supervisors to give the old hospital to the school system.

After all, the school system are the future of our community, and they are the ones who will be paying the bills for the school system.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Nina S. Garcia

Ambrose, Sokol take UNO bachelor degrees

"There is no such thing as a self-made man or woman," New Orleans Mayor Sidney J. Barthelemy reminded graduates of the University of New Orleans Saturday.

"You made it to this point because of many people who made it possible for you. It was they who provided you with an opportunity; you took advantage of it, Barthelemy told degree candidates.

The mayor reiterated his commitment to education, saying that excellent educational facilities—from kindergarten to graduate research—are one way for the state, the region and the city to pull out of the economic morass. The other way out, he said, is through a stable political climate, to which he also pledged his commitment.

"Eighty-five percent of new businesses emanate from great universities. Look at great cities and you will find great universities," he said. "We need to support the University of New Orleans and see and insist that it is a first-rate institution."

A total of 613 degrees was awarded during UNO's fall commencement, including 476 undergraduate degrees, 129 master's degrees and eight doctorates.

John M. DeBlois, New Orleans entrepreneur and philanthropist, received UNO's eighth honorary degree. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa, for his "exceptional commitment to assisting the University of New Orleans in fulfilling its urban mission."

DeBlois and his wife, Holley Pavy DeBlois, established the DeBlois Endowment at UNO for the use of the School of Urban and Regional Studies in improving the quality of life for the citizens of the New Orleans area.

His donations of $1 million each to UNO and to the Jewish Welfare Fund are beginnings of his "goal achievements" to improve his native city.

The third annual Excellence in Research awards of the UNO Alumni Association were awarded to two UNO faculty members by Association President Harold Heno. Dr. Steven A. Shull, professor of political science, received the Career Achievement award. Dr. Arthur C. Nelson, assistant professor of urban and regional planning, received the Early Career Achievement award.

The degrees were conferred by Helen Crawford, a member of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors. UNO Chancellor Cooper R. Mackin presided and Dr. Ralph Madison Jr., pastor, Kenner Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

vacation and benediction.

Raquel Cortina, UNO professor of music, sang the national anthem, and "A Christmas Festival," a musical interlude by Leroy Anderson, was performed by the UNO Wind Ensemble, directed by Milton L. Bush.

Grace Veronica Ambrose and Willard Sokol III, both residents of Bay St. Louis, were awarded degrees from the University of New Orleans on Saturday, Dec. 20, during UNO's commencement exercises. Ambrose received a bachelor of arts in history and Sokol was awarded a bachelor of science degree in naval architecture and marine engineering.

Diamondhead firefighters are top scorers on state exams

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Three Diamondhead Firefighters are top scorers on a recent National Firefighter Certification examination challenge.

Captains Rodney Aguzin and Bobby Blake and Firefighter Brian Adam received the three highest scores in a group of firefighters from throughout the state taking these examinations at the Mississippi State Fire Academy in Jackson.

In challenging this advanced level examination, these firefighters trained while in Diamondhead and therefore were able to forego the usual two-week course at the academy in Jackson.

Guiding their training was Diamondhead Fire Chief Dennis Westbrook, a former state fire academy instructor.

"It took a lot of hard work on the part of these firefighters and I am really proud of them," Westbrook said.

To challenge the written exam and skills test a firefighter must have a minimum of 80 hours training, he added.

These men have put in 200-1,300 hours to be ready for the test, Westbrook said.

"I am especially proud of their achievement considering the challenge has a 75 percent fail rate," he said.

Training at Diamondhead meant the firefighters did not have to be absent from their duties while studying and were able to practice what they were learning under actual circumstances.

Adam had previously passed the first level examination following a two-week stay at the academy.

Aguzin and Blake challenged the first level examination and skills test just two days prior to challenging the advanced level.

Blake scored the highest grade in the class on both levels of the examinations and tests.

"We are obviously proud of the dedication of these firefighters in upgrading their knowledge of firefighting and therefore providing improved firefighting knowledge to our department," said Bob Barnes, general manager of the Diamondhead Fire Protection District.

"We are also grateful to Chief Westbrook for his dedication and concern for his personnel, reflected by the fact that he spent many of his off-hours instructing and drilling our fire department personnel so that they could successfully compete for these certificates which are recognized nationally and cover all phases of firefighting," Barnes added.

During the next several months other members of the Diamondhead department will be training and studying for National Certification. Ratings along with emergency medical training.

distribution of audio-visual equipment could also be set up in the hospital.

Other options included textbook storage and distribution, a teacher preparation area, rooms for centralized testing and modification of the existing hospital boardroom into a conference room or a small auditorium.

"I was very pleased with the positive response we received from the supervisors and with their response I am certain that they are aware that, should the public schools secure the building, the taxpayers of both Bay St. Louis and Waveland would profit greatly through future tax savings," Oge said.

MEDIA IMPACT
A public television documentary examines the impact of the media on current events.

"Race Against Prime Time" will be broadcast at 10 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 28, on Mississippi ETV.

Using the 1980 racial riots in Liberty City, Fla., as a case study, the one-hour documentary focuses on the policies, practices and pressures that shape television news coverage.

Grant to enhance DUI enforcement

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi Division of Lifelong Learning has received a $25,000 grant to help keep intoxicated citizens off the roads.

The director of USM's Division of Lifelong Learning, Dr. William A. Bufkin, said USM is helping coordinate the Governor's Highway Safety Program, which conducts training programs to help law enforcement officials identify drunk drivers.

"Some small towns do not have breathometers," he said, "so they need to be able to identify drunk drivers to make sure they get them off the roads."

Bufkin said the law enforcement officers will conduct a series of training programs at nine sites across the state. Some officers will serve as volunteers and will receive different amounts of alcohol. Then, giving these officers eye-hand coordination tests and noting their eye movements, participants in the program will learn how to identify how much a person has had to drink.

"Hopefully, this program will result in less drunk drivers on our roads and highways," Bufkin said.

River leaders named

POPLARVILLE—Three Bay Senior High graduates are making headlines in Pearl River College news during the fall '84 semester.

Heather Gordon, Tracey Carver and Tracey McRaney were elected class favorites in recent campus elections.

Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Gordon of Bay St. Louis, was elected as a sophomore class favorite, and was elected president of the sophomore class of Pearl River College.

Gordon graduated from Bay High in 1983. At Pearl River, she is a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and was recently named Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Heather is a chemistry major at Pearl River College.

Carver, daughter of Howard Carver of Waveland, was chosen as a freshman class favorite. She graduated from Bay High this spring where she was the captain of the Tiger cheerleaders, was a member of the National Honor Society, and was elected Miss Bay Senior High.

At Pearl River, Carver was a cheerleader for the PRC Wildcat football team this fall and is an economics major.

McRaney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. McRaney of Waveland, was named a freshman class favorite by the Pearl River College freshman class.

McRaney, a 1984 graduate of Bay High, was a guard for the Pearl River College Wildcats this fall. At Bay High, McRaney was chosen Mr. Bay Senior High, was selected All-Conference in football for two years, All-Conference in baseball, and was chosen Most Valuable Defensive Lineman. He was a member of the National Honor Society and was the recipient of the American Legion Award. He is a communications major at PRC.

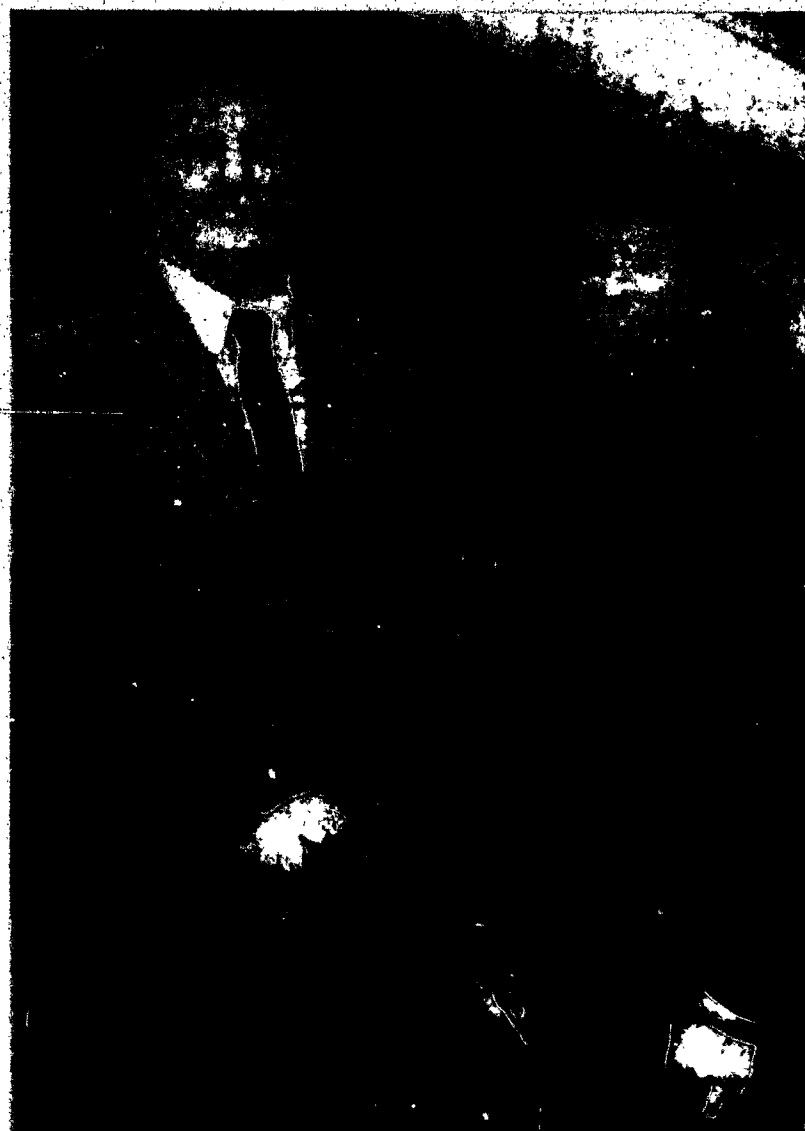

Greg Amacker of Poplarville and Deana Davis of Picayune were elected Mr. and Miss Pearl River College.

Amacker, the 6'-1, 230-pound linebacker for the Pearl River Wildcats, was chosen Most Valuable Defensive Player in the Mississippi Junior College All-Star Game recently held in Tupelo.

Davis, co-captain of the String of Pearls dance team, was selected as a sophomore maid to the PRC Homecoming Court this fall. Davis is also a member of the PRC River Navigators, the elite student recruiting team.

PTO sponsors Santa's Store

Hancock North Central PTO sponsored a Christmas Santa's Store at the Elementary School from Monday, Dec. 15 through Friday, Dec. 19.

The children were allowed to come to Santa's Store during their library time to purchase gifts for their families.

After their gifts were purchased, they were wrapped and tagged, ready to go under the tree.

"This allowed the children to use decision making skills and gave them the pride of buying gifts without their parents' assistance," according to DiAnn Sones, PTO president.

The response was overwhelming and the profit will be used to bring to the elementary a play from Jackson for presentation to all the children in the school.

HNC PTO sponsors Christmas program

The Hancock North Central Elementary PTO sponsored a Christmas program held on Dec. 16 in the gymnasium.

Welcome was offered by DiAnn Sones, PTO president.

Dr. Dianne Tucker, principal, introduced the program and was the master of ceremonies.

The kindergarten classes were first presenters with a skit of the nativity scene and story accompanied by an angel choir.

The first grade classes sang "The Friendly Beast," the second grade classes sang and acted out "Frosty The Snowman."

The third grade classes sang "Silent Night." They also sang and performed a skit to "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town."

The fourth grade classes sang "Twelve Days Of Christmas." Mrs. Jane Murphy's and Mrs. Elaine McGee's special classes sang "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

The fifth grade sang "Jingle Bells" and performed a skit of "Christmas Scenes."

The sixth grade classes performed the play "My True Love Gave To Me" on the stage.

The benediction was read by Dana Martin from the sixth grade.

"The teachers and children put a lot of hard work and time into the play and was very much appreciated by the PTO and parents," Sones said. The response was fantastic, as the gymnasium was filled.

After the play refreshments were served in the cafeteria. Santa visited and a Christmas movie was shown.

All-Americans added to Senior Bowl roster

MOBILE, Ala.—Three more All-Americans, Bill Smith of Ole Miss and a pair of Missouri Tigers, John Clay and Dick Chapura, have accepted invitations to play in Senior Bowl '87, according to Executive Director Eric Tillman.

Smith, a 6-3, 220 pound punter, established four NCAA records while at Oxford, including having a punt of 50 yards or longer in 32 consecutive games. A 44.3 yard punting average, which led to his being named to numerous All-American squads, was a big factor in the Rebels' success this fall, according to Ole Miss Head Coach Billy Brewer.

"Bill provided us with a great advantage in the kicking game," said Brewer. "His tremendous leg strength, and his ability to place the short punts, kept our opponents backed up all year."

Clay, a 6-5, 296 pound St. Louis native, is considered to be the finest offensive lineman in Missouri history. He was a strong candidate for both the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award in 1986.

"John has the work ethic and God-given talent to be a fine pro," said Tillman. "His lateral movement, which is a key in pass protection, is the best I have ever seen in a big man."

Chapura was a defensive terror for the Tigers in 1985 and 1986, making All-Big Eight both years. During his junior season, the 6-3, 276 pound end recorded a phenomenal 21 tackles against Nebraska.

Nicknamed "Gator," Chapura grew up in Sarasota, Florida, where he was an All-State high school performer.

Senior Bowl tickets are available at all First Southern Federal offices, the Mobile Municipal Auditorium, the Mississippi Coast Coliseum in Biloxi, at Sears in Pensacola, and at the Senior Bowl booth in Bel Air Mall.

National flag football event scheduled in N.O.

The eighth annual U.S.F.&G. (United States Fidelity and Guarantee) Sugar Bowl National Collegiate Flag Football Tournament will be held Sunday, Dec. 28, through Wednesday, Dec. 31, at the University of New Orleans.

Approximately 1,800 students, representing over 80 U.S. colleges and universities, will compete in three divisions—men's, women's and co-rec (equal number of men and women).

The round-robin play will be conducted daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on fields surrounding the UNO

Health and Physical Education Center on the main campus and on fields near the UNO Lakefront Arena on the east campus. Spectators are welcome at no charge.

Championships for each division will be held Wednesday, Dec. 31. The first place teams and runners-up in each division will participate in the Parade of Champions and give an exhibition game prior to the Sugar Bowl football game in the Superdome on Jan. 1.

For further information, call the UNO department of recreation and intramural sports, (504) 286-6357.

Stone selected new wildlife director

JACKSON—Joe Stone of Hattiesburg has been selected as the new executive director of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

The action was announced Dec. 18 at a meeting of the five-member wildlife board in Jackson.

A former director of the state's wildlife agency during the Cliff Finch administration, Stone was selected from a field of eight applicants.

Stone, 49, has a bachelor of science degree in biology from the University of Southern Mississippi, and he has completed additional graduate work in marine biology.

After leaving the wildlife agency in 1979, Stone has been employed as an environmental consultant with Interstate, Inc., and has owned and operated a sporting goods store in Hattiesburg.

Stone has been active in the Mississippi Wildlife Federation, the National Wildlife Federation, and numerous other state and local wildlife groups.

Miss USM named

HATTIESBURG—Melinda McCarty of Hattiesburg, a senior accounting major at the University of Southern Mississippi, has been named Miss USM during a recent campus election.

McCarty, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ken McCarty of Hattiesburg, also is the granddaughter of Mrs. Kenneth G. McCarty Sr. and the late Mr. McCarty, formerly of Bay St. Louis.

MOBILE, Ala.—If outdoor recreation is what you seek, then Walter F. George/George W. Andrews Lakes is where you need to be spending your vacation time.

Nestled in the hills of the Chattahoochee River Valley, these lakes offer a year-round wealth of opportunities.

Activities such as camping, boating, picnicking, fishing, skiing, sight-seeing and hunting are available for the outdoor enthusiast.

Built and managed by the Mobile District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the project begins at Phenix City, Ala., and Columbus, Ga., on the Chattahoochee River and runs south past Eufaula, Ala., to Fort Gaines, Ga., and the Walter F. George Dam.

It continues south past Columbia, Ala., until it reaches the George W. Andrews Lock and Dam. This represents an area of more than 100 miles of river.

The Corps and other local, state, and federal agencies maintain over 30 areas for your recreational use. These areas drew more than 7.5 million visitors in 1985.

CORPS-MANAGED FEE CAMPING AREA

The Corps operates and maintains three fee camping areas on the project. Cotton Hill Park and White Oak campgrounds offer some of the best camping facilities to be found in the southeast.

Facilities include water and electric hookups, camper washhouses, dump station, fish cleaning station, playground equipment, swimming beach and boat ramp with courtesy dock.

Camping fees are $8 a night with water and electricity and $6 a night without electricity.

The third area is Bluff Creek Park which is located on the north end of the project near Phenix City, Ala.

This park has recently been redesigned for camping. Currently there are no electrical hookups but plans call for the installation of electrical hookups and a camper washhouse by the summer of 1987. Camping fees are currently $5 a night.

These three campgrounds are open year-round with operating hours from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. Gate attendants are provided for your assistance and security.

Camping stays are limited to two consecutive weeks during the summer months with longer stays permitted during the off-season.

Campsites are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

PICNICKING AND DAY USE

If you fancy only a one-day trip to the lake or maybe just have a few hours to water ski or boat ride, there are facilities on the lake that will meet your needs.

Picnic areas are provided at Hardridge Creek Park, Highland Park, White Oak Creek Park, Hatcheechubee Creek Park, Rood Creek Park, Cool Branch Park, Sandy Creek Park and East Bank Park and are equipped with picnic shelters for large gatherings.

These shelters are generally available on a first-come, first-served basis but may be reserved by contacting the Resource Manager's office. The fee for reserving these sites is $25 a day.

STATE PARKS

There are three state parks located on the lake. The first of these is Lakepoint Resort State Park. It is located on Highway 431 in Eufaula, Ala.

It offers a wide variety of recreational facilities and opportunities such as swimming, boating, golf, tennis, picnicking, camping, motel, cabins, convention center, hiking, and horseback riding.

For more information, contact Lakepoint Resort, P.O. Box 33, Eufaula, Ala. 36027 or call (205) 687-9755.

The second area is Florence Landing State Park. Operated by the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, it provides marina services, campground, clubhouse, cabins and picnic facilities.

For more information contact Florence Landing State Park, Route 1, Box 36, Omaha, Ga. 31821 or call (912) 634-4244.

The third area is George T. Bagby State Park. It offers swimming, camping, picnicking and cabins. It is located on Georgia Highway 90. For information contact George T. Bagby State Park, P.O. Box 661, Fort Gaines, Ga. 31751 or call (912) 788-2880.

NOTICE TO MOTOR VEHICLE OWNERS

Legislative Enactment Requiring Odometer Disclosure on Transfer of Motor Vehicles

The Motor Vehicle Title Law was amended by the 1986 regular session of the legislature. Mississippi is now among the majority of states requiring the transferor of a motor vehicle to make an odometer disclosure statement. A new certificate of title issued by the State Tax Commission after January 1, 1987, will include the odometer reading as part of the required descriptive data identifying the motor vehicle for which the certificate of title was issued.

The changes in the law require:

1. The transferor of a motor vehicle to make an odometer disclosure statement either:

a. on a notarized bill of sale, including the odometer disclosure statement, "in a form approved by the State Tax Commission."

b. on the previous certificate of title if there are provisions for odometer disclosure in the assignment and warranty of title by the transferor, if not then by notarized bill of sale, as described in 1 (a); and

c. For each transfer which has intervened since the previous certificate of title there shall be included as a supporting document a bill of sale in a form approved by the State Tax Commission including a completed odometer disclosure statement.

This office will be happy to assist those individuals selling or transferring a motor vehicle, in order to comply with this new legislation.

newsletter of the state-federal cooperative program for red drum research in the gulf

SECRETARY'S RED DRUM PLAN

A fishery Management Plan for the red drum fishery in the Gulf of Mexico has been prepared by the Secretary of Commerce under authority of Section 304(c) of the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act. Though not in final form, the proposed rule:

- establishes a total allowable directed commercial harvest of red drum from the FCZ of zero for 1987;
- provides for a resource assessment program to determine safe levels of commercial harvest from the FCZ;
- establishes a framework procedure for specifying commercial quotas in the FCZ on an annual basis;
- establishes an incidental catch allowance for red drum of up to 5 percent of the total weight of the catch per trip in non-directed fisheries, and prohibits retention, landing, sale, barter or trade of any incidental harvest of red drum when the 1987 catch limit (300,000 pounds) is reached;
- prohibits the transfer or attempted transfer of red drum at sea;
- requires permits for selected vessels with incidental catches of red drum;
- specifies reporting requirements for owners or operators of permitted vessels and dealers receiving incidentally caught red drum. Recreational fishing for red drum will be allowed in the FCZ, but catches are subject to state law.

The rule became effective on December 22, 1986 when the second 90-day emergency rule expired. A Plan amendment offering several new measures and revising others is currently under preparation by the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council.

STOCK ASSESSMENT

Louisiana State University has determined from analysis of 1984 Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries creel survey data that catch per man day for fishing trips where at least one red drum was caught appears to be a reasonable estimate of catch-per-unit-effort. CPUE data will be used to develop estimates of stock abundance. Researchers have also conducted analysis of co-variance to determine seasonal and areal differences in red drum abundance.

In light of the Gulf Council's request that states modify their regulations to allow a minimum of 20 percent escapement of juvenile red drum to the offshore spawning stock, LSU researchers have determined that in Louisiana waters the rate of recruitment from inshore to an offshore spawning biomass is only 4 percent of what would occur in an unexploited condition.

Red drum analyses have proven so fruitful that LSU hopes to initiate a series of similar studies with Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries concerning spotted seatrout.

—Richard Condrey
The Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources continues red drum research activities at the Claude Feteet Mariculture Center. In addition to the tagging mortality and tag shedding study now underway, Center personnel obtained approximately 200,000 fertilized red drum eggs in October. From these eggs over 39,000 larvae were produced and stocked into a 0.3 acre pond. In mid-

November the pond was drained and 806 fry harvested. Remaining red drum are currently maintained in the wet lab at CPMC.

—Walter M. Tatum

The NMFS Mississippi Laboratories report a total of 5,983 adult red drum tagged in the first phase of the offshore tagging project. In cooperation with biologists from the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources, Louisiana State University, Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, 5,754 red drum have been tagged since September 15, 1986. During the first 90-day emergency period, an additional 229 red drum were tagged on-board commercial vessels by NMFS observers. Dart tags were utilized in tagging 4,857 red drum, of which 1,315 fish received double tags. Internal anchor tags were used in tagging 897 red drum. To date, 25 recaptures have been reported, primarily by recreational fishermen.

—Warren Stuntz

STOCK IDENTIFICATION

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory is continuing field sampling in a project designed to assess red drum migrations and abundance of life stages in Mississippi Sound. By late fall postlarval red drum had disappeared from Renfro beam trawls taken in shallow marsh waters, however juvenile fish from 20.0 mm (2.4") TL were remained found in seine samples. Over 150 drum, averaging 15" long, were taken in short gill net sets, tagged with internal anchor tags and released. Five returns have been reported with a maximum time out of 15 days. Mortalities associated with gill net caught fish and tagging procedures are being investigated through on-shore holding facilities.

—Tom McIlwain

NEWS AND NOTES

The NMFS Mississippi Laboratories have completed a 17-minute video tape of red drum tagging operations titled "Cooperative Red Drum Research in the Gulf of Mexico." Highlights of the production include offshore tagging techniques onboard a purse seine vessel and details of various states' tagging programs. Copies of the program are available through Dr. Andrew Kemmerer, director, NMFS Mississippi Laboratories.

MOORING FACILITIES AND BOATING NEEDS

The boating public will find several areas around the lake where they can obtain boating supplies and services. These include Lakopoint Marina, Florence Marina, Chewalla Creek Marina, Mid-Lake Bait and Tackle and Patula Shores.

They offer fuel, boat repairs, storage, emergency towing services and boating and fishing supplies.

FISHING

Walter F. George/George W. Andrews Lakes have long been noted as some of the finest bass fishing waters in the country. In addition, species such as hybrid bass, crappie, bream, and catfish are also plentiful.

Each year many bass tournaments and rodeos are held on these waters.

HUNTING

Wintertime is a time when hunters begin to get that old stirring down deep inside which urges them to pull out the guns and hit the woods. The Corps has provided over 1,000 acres of hunting land for public use.

Species available are deer, ducks, squirrel, rabbit, quail and dove.

In addition, the states of Georgia and Alabama offer management areas either on or nearby the projects.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service maintains more than 11,000 acres of land at the project in the form of the Etowah Wildlife Refuge.

Hunting permits are generally required along with the appropriate state hunting license.

Letter to Santa

A CHRISTMAS TAIL

Dear Santa,

My name is Muffin, and I'm a cat. Don't suppose you get many letters from cats, but hope you'll read mine since I've been good and have some special requests.

I live at the Hancock County Animal Shelter, and my first request is for a real home and family (or single person) of my own. The shelter is not such a bad place—I get good food here, I'm never hungry, thirsty, cold or scared like I was as a stray. I get discouraged and think I'll never be adopted since there are so many of us!

I should not complain since I'm more fortunate than most homeless animals. Many are killed by cars or other animals or starve, freeze or get sick and die terrible deaths. Here at the shelter, I've seen many cats and dogs come and if nobody adopts them or their owners don't come to get them, they are taken to another room and given a shot that makes them go to sleep. Those friends never wake up, Santa, but if it didn't happen we would be so crowded, miserable and get sick.

My second request is for good homes for all the other animals out on the streets and in the shelter. It is so nice to be part of a family. Some owners don't take very good care of their pets—they don't feed or water them properly; they let them roam around the neighborhood or else chain them so they never get to run or play; some don't provide a warm, dry place for their pets and lots of people let their pets breed and that's why so many end up without homes and are destroyed.

My third request is for the humans who take care of us here at the shelter. Ed, Sandy, Wendy, Keith, Larry and sometimes others come and feed and water us, clean our cages, try to get and keep us well, and make us as comfortable as they can. Their job is not easy, Santa. They need more volunteers to teach other humans about animal rights.

Money is necessary to operate the shelter and buy the things they need for us and for their educational program. Most of all, Santa, they need strength to keep going with understanding and cooperation from everyone. Their job is not easy—they see some many animals who should never have been born. They get upset when they see animals that are abused, neglected or abandoned—they get angry with the people responsible.

Frustration occurs over litters born into a world crowded with pets already. They try to find homes for us all. They run ads in the paper and talk to people about us, but so few people come to adopt and some who come want us for the wrong reason. I know we homeless animals are unfortunate, but I can't help feeling sorry for our human friends who work with us every day. They care about each one of us and sometimes get especially attached to a certain animal. When our cages get crowded, they have to kill or euthanize us. They hate that part of their job. Often they sound like a broken record explaining the importance of spaying and neutering and the need to keep pets safe at home.

I know you're really busy now, but I'd sure appreciate if you could find a way to help.

Love,
Muffin, the cat

New assistant superintendent named at Pass Christian Schools

Dr. Lorice A. Broome was recently named Assistant Superintendent for Pass Christian Public Schools by the School Board of Trustees on Tuesday, Dec. 18.

She comes to Pass Christian with an extensive background in both education and in business and industry.

Dr. Broome holds a doctorate in educational administration from the University of Southern Mississippi, a master's degree from USM and a bachelor of arts from Mississippi University for Women.

She attended the University of California (Sacramento). She graduated with special distinction from Columbia High School.

Dr. Broome taught at St. Martin High School and Bayou View Junior High School on the Mississippi Coast and for two years at the Iraklion Dependents School at Iraklion, Crete (Greece).

Upon her return to the States, she taught remedial reading in the second grade and taught in, and supervised the activities of, the three elementary learning centers, grades 1-3, which she established in the Columbia, Mississippi School System. She was then promoted to the central office staff.

Dr. Broome has a broad background of experience in educational administration and supervision. For ten years she served as a central office administrator and supervisor for the Columbia Public Schools.

Her main areas of responsibility were as supervisor of curriculum, grades 6-12, and ESAA project director, grades K-12. For eight of those years, she also served as director of accountability, grades K-12, leading the administrators and teachers to develop and implement an accountability system that would ensure that students learn the basic skills and knowledge appropriate to each grade and subject area.

During those years, Dr. Broome carried out many other duties and responsibilities including the following: served as superintendent's representative on the Policy Council for development and implementation of school board policies; wrote and directed Mississippi Association for School Administrators' grant to improve curriculum, grades 1-12; wrote the first project for the district.

Also, wrote and administered NSBA Career Education Project, Titles II, III, IV, and Joint Funding for Basic Skills; directed the evaluation and revision of all areas of curriculum in grades K-12 with emphasis on student mastery of learning skills; directed the district's testing and evaluation program for grades 1-12; and served a short term as assistant principal in the high school and one year as an administrative intern.

For the past two school terms, she has been director of vocational education for the McComb Public Schools, McComb.

Dr. Broome has wide experience in business and industry as well as in education. For five years, she was vice-president of her family's construction company and was involved in all areas of administering and supervising the activities of the business.

In addition, she worked for three years at Aerojet-General Corporation in Sacramento, Calif., as administrator of the Branch Library for solid rocket propellant research and development.

"This wealth of experience provides Dr. Broome with a unique advantage and perspective in working with educators and members of the community," said Leroy Lizana, superintendent.

She believes strongly that educators and the community are, and of necessity must be, partners in education in order to provide the best education for the students of the Pass Christian School District, he added.

Carey's Hattiesburg registration scheduled

Spring registration at William Carey College in Hattiesburg will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 13, in the Thomas Business Building.

Students may call or visit prior to registration for counseling or advisement. Classes will begin Wednesday, Jan. 14.

Undergraduate programs are available from the college of arts and sciences, and the schools of business, education, music, and nursing.

Most classes are small to provide much personal attention. Courses are also offered in day and night schedules to meet the needs of full-time and part-time students.

Student housing is available at William Carey for single or married students. For more information, call 662-6103; or visit the campus on Tuscan Avenue.

Bay Junior High celebrates Christmas with art

"Do your own thing" was the motto at Bay Junior High as students participated in Christmas Arts and Crafts Day.

"Fifteen different projects ranging from wreaths to Christmas cards and ornaments were set up for students to enjoy," said Doris Diamond, sixth grade teacher and event coordinator.

Students were allowed to visit each classroom and choose their own project. Diamond says this exposes the student to various hands-on activities and forces them to follow instructions and think for themselves to reach a finished product—something they can be proud of.

Since last year's debut, the event has grown and encompasses six classrooms, six teachers and many volunteer parents.

"We'd like to thank all the parents who donated their time for this event," Diamond added.

"Special thanks goes to Mrs. Carol Vegas who gave a tremendous amount of time and effort to the students," she said.

Mrs. Vegas traveled with students to American Restorations on Main Street where they designed and painted a Christmas scene on the store window.

"We have so many youngsters with artistic talent. We just want them to realize what they can do with it," Diamond said.

Mrs. Diamond also thanks Kmart and Winn Dixie stores for their donations of art supplies and materials.

Carey to build conference center

HATTIESBURG—William Carey College has announced plans to renovate nine classrooms and construct a 300-seat conference center on the Gulf Coast campus in Gulfport.

Financial arrangements have been completed and the architectural plans are being developed for construction to begin in late January.

The conference center and renovated classrooms mark another step in plans for a full-service Coast campus.

DeLisle Elementary School presents Christmas show

There was standing room only at DeLisle Elementary School's Annual Christmas Program.

This year's program was presented by the third and fourth grade classes on Dec. 18, at 7 p.m. in the school's auditorium.

"The Night Before Christmas" was the theme which featured toys, snowflakes, elves, dancers, and some very grouchy mice and children who were soon to discover the true meaning of Christmas.

The traditional Nativity scene was a perfect ending. Parents, friends, students, and teachers enjoyed the performance and left with the spirit of Christmas, a school spokesman reported.

Sir Edmund Burke is credited with having tagged the newspaper profession as "The Fourth Estate." There are three estates in British government: the Lord Spiritual (the royal family), the Lords Temporal (House of Lords) and the Commons (House of Commons). Burke once pointed to the press gallery in Commons and said: "Yonder sits the Fourth Estate, more important than them all."

JILL JACKSON'S HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD. Always known as "The Pink Palace," the Beverly Hills Hotel celebrated its 75th anniversary with a cocktail gala in the famed Crystal Room. It was wall-to-wall V.I.P.'s, socialites, regular hotel guests and celebrities with Robin Leach filming it all for "Lifestyles of The Rich and Famous" to air syndicated throughout the month of February.

As is usual in Hollywood, the range of clothes was outrageous from sequined dresses and feather boas to leather jackets and crushed linens. Champagne flowed, tables groaned with seafood, rare roast beef, caviar, sweet treats and a huge birthday cake.

Among the smoozin' and munchin' were Erik Estrada (in leather jacket and tie) and his wife in a black cocktail dress, producer Jimmie Komack, the Lloyd Bridgeses, Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows, Steve Forrest, back to his Auburn hair and beard after going white for "Dallas" (he wouldn't tell me what they did to his hair to whiten it. If you wanna know what I think, I think it's really white and he just went back to that for a while), Cesar Romero with a carnation in his lapel, still ever dapper, ever courteous, authors Irving Wallace and Louis L'Amour, Ann Miller and Marie Windsor, Henny Backus informing that she and Jim have just finished another book, Robert Loggia, Pamela Mason and Max Factor, whose father created all that make-up.

BITS 'N' PIECES: Mikhail Baryshnikov, Dustin Hoffman, Rebecca DeMornay and Twyla Tharp were among those catching Molly Ringwald in "Lily Dale" at the Samuel Beckett in the Big Apple... Sigourney Weaver's another celluloid star enjoying a stage fling as Portia in "The Merchant of Venice" off-Broadway... You can buy John Wayne's Newport Beach oceanfront spread for $10.6 million. It includes its own marina, his and her marble bathrooms, a screening room, and etc. ... There's still a lot of smoke over Debra Winger's no-holds-barred Esquire interview... No one was happier than Diane Keaton to leave the winds of Vermont for the Santa Annas of Southern California when "Baby Boom" switched locations... Of course you know Arnold Schwarzenegger has made a lotta moo-la from movies and muscles, but did ya know he's also racked up quite a bit from real estate? © 1986, McNaught Synd.

Director
Bureau of Narcotics

Q: Are drugs a problem in other countries? (C.M. Florence, MS).

Q: Yes! Drug abuse is a worldwide problem. Great Britain, Germany, France, and other European countries have long been faced with problems similar to ours. Drug abuse is now becoming a huge problem in drug source countries such as Colombia and Mexico.

The United States is not alone in trying to combat this problem. Drug abuse is a "people" problem, one that does not recognize any social, racial, economic, or national boundaries.

If you would like to ask a question, address it to: Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics, P.O. Box 6482, Jackson, MS 39212.

Thank you for your patronage in the past year. Best wishes for a happy holiday season and a bright new year in 1987.

REYNOLDS ON DEAN'S LIST

Dean's list scholars at William Carey College in Hattiesburg include Sandy Reynolds of Pearlinton.

Southern Exposure season to reopen

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi's traveling song-and-dance troupe, "Southern Exposure," will hit the road again in mid-January as the versatile group resumes its 10th anniversary season.

Following a holiday break, the troupe is scheduled to perform Jan. 17 at the Mississippi Theatre Association meeting on the campus of Jeff Davis Junior College in Gulfport.

Performances also are slated Jan.

The 1986-87 show—which highlights some of the best of all popular music areas—Broadway, pop, country, rock-n-roll, gospel and patriotic—is appropriately entitled, "Let's Get Excited."

"Southern Exposure is excited about celebrating 10 seasons on the road," said Laurel native Tim Breland, who writes and directs the show, and plays keyboard. "The 1986-87 show is flexible and adaptable to almost all age groups, with something in the show sure to please most all ages and musical preferences."

This year's show includes numbers such as "Joint the Circus," from Barnum; "Sun in the Morning," from Annie Get Your Gun; "Thank God I'm a Country Boy," "A Tennessee Saturday Night," "Johnny B. Goode;" and "Great Balls of Fire."

"Each performance concludes, as has become tradition, with an inspiring and reflective choral montage," said Breland, a graduate of USM's School of Music, and director of the show since 1980.

Southern Exposure, a production of the USM Public Relations Department, has performed through the years at the World's Fair, Miss USA pageants, in New York City's Central Park and as an opening act or with such professional entertainers as country superstar Lee Greenwood.

Choreography for the production is conducted by Nancy Wingo-Caffey, a graduate of the USM Department of Theatre and Dance, and Sissie Nixon of the USM Public Relations Department serves as graphic artist.

Cast members include Brad Cundiff, Lana Larson, Alesia Phillips, Sissy Sharp and Charles Thomas, all of Hattiesburg; Amy Jackson of Meridian; Kim Pope and Craig Stevens, both of Laurel; Ben Preston and Stacy Snowden, both of Clinton; Mark Russell of Sumrall; and Greg Shaw of Carriere.

Band members, in addition to Breland, include William Gebhart of Foley, Ala., bass guitar; and Robert Johnson of Hattiesburg, drums.

Members of the Southern Exposure stage crew include David Judice of Gloster, sound engineer; and sound crew assistants Jim Hennessie of Slidell, La., and Scott Slay of Jackson.

Charles Thomas of Hattiesburg, Kim Pope of Laurel and Alesia Phillips of Hattiesburg; and third row, Greg Shaw of Carriere, Sissy Sharp of Hattiesburg, Ben Preston of Clinton, Brad Cundiff of Hattiesburg and Mark Russell of Sumrall.

24 in connection with the Miss Southern Pageant on the USM campus and Jan. 29 for the Madison County Chamber of Commerce during a 7 p.m. event at the Renaissance on County Line Road in Jackson.

A variety of engagements are on tap throughout February, March, April and including a season finale May 9 in Biloxi.

After putting together a new show—with new costumes, sets and some new faces—Southern Exposure launched its current season Nov. 22. The group has taken its high-energy, reinvigorated show to sites throughout the South since the

Board lists Legislative recommendations

The State Board of Education has now officially released its 1987 Recommendations to the State Legislature. For the second straight year, the Board has put the recommendations in brochure form.

Unlike last year's recommendations, the Board has placed top priority on five specific items. The five topics the Board would like the Legislature to give special attention to are:

1. Establish a Management Information System for the State Department of Education.
2. Increase the Compulsory Attendance Age to 16.
3. A Majority Vote Only Needed for Passage of School Bond Issues.
4. Place Kindergarten Under the Minimum Program.
5. Appoint All Local School Superintendents.

The Board feels these five items need immediate action in order to enhance the education reform movement.

In the 1986 session of the Legislature, 15 of the Board's 25 recommendations were favorably enacted. This year, the Board has a total of 26 specific recommendations.

Literacy tutors workshop scheduled in Gulfport

A free Tutor Training Workshop will be held in Room A-V03 at Gulfport High School on Saturday, Jan. 24 from 9 a.m. to noon.

"We will teach you what you need to know to teach another adult to read and write. We need at least 20 more tutors now. All books and materials are free to tutors and students," according to Dr. Norris L. Williams, supervisor of community education for Gulfport School District.

Over 6,000 adults in Harrison County cannot read or write, and an additional 14,000 adults are functionally illiterate. We need your help to teach these individuals.

To enroll in the workshop, or if you know of someone or are someone who cannot read or had difficulty reading, contact Mrs. N. V. Williams, coordinator of the Adult Learning Center, at 632-8757, or Community Education, at 865-4668.

ETV Brief

ASNER HOSTS

"Hanukkah," Mississippi ETV's half-hour documentary hosted by Edward Asner, can be seen again this holiday season at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 30, on the statewide network.

"Hanukkah" recounts the events more than 2,000 years ago that led to the celebration every year of the eight-day midwinter festival by Jews the world over.

Says Asner in the film, "Hanukkah, the Festival of Lights, the Festival of Rededication of the Jewish temple...celebrated every year in December, Hanukkah recalls the bravery, tenacity and historical circumstance—some call it miracle—that permitted the ancient Israelites of 2,000 years ago to preserve their freedom and with it the spiritual source from which Judaism draws its meaning."

The program utilizes graphics, animation, dramatic presentation and the Hanukkah home religious service. Asner explores the historical basis for the holiday, and graphics from a variety of eras and artists allow the viewer to see the events through many different interpretations.

Hanukkah is a time of family unity, and the program uses the home service as the thread of continuity that links the historical exposition to modern practices and beliefs.
